

Pulborough

Psalm 63

Nathaniel Cooke

1 O God, my gra - cious God to thee My 2 O to my long - ing eyes once more That 3 My life, while I that life en - joy, In

1 O God, my gra - cious God to thee My
2 O to my long - ing eyes once more That 3 My life, while I that life en - joy, In morn - ing pray'rs shall off - er'd be For view of glor - ious pow'r re - store, Which bless - ing God I will em - ploy, With morn - ing pray'rs shall off - er'd be For

view of glor - ious pow'r re - store, Which bless - ing God I will em - ploy, With thee my thir - sty soul doth pant; My thy ma - jes - tic house dis - plays: Be - lift - ed hands a - dore his name: My thee my thir - sty soul doth pant; My

thy ma - jes - tic house dis - plays: Be -
lift - ed hands a - dore his name: My

faint - ing flesh im - plores thy grace My cause to me thy won - drous love Be - soul's con - tent shall be as great My

faint - ing flesh im - plores thy grace My
cause to me thy won - drous love Be - soul's con - tent shall be as great My 17 18 20 faint - ing flesh im - plores thy grace, With - cause to me thy won - drous love Than soul's con - tent shall be as great As 21 22 24 in this dry and bar - ren place Where life it - self does dear - er prove, My theirs who choic - est dain - ties eat, While

25 26 28 D.C.

I re - fresh - ing wat - ers want lips shall al - ways speak thy praise.
 I with joy his praise pro - claim.

D.C.

(added by Rachel Jordan for St Anne's Festival, Lewes 24 July 2016) gingasingamusic©2016 D.C.

AMEN 30

A - men, A - men, A - men.

Nathaniel Cooke was born at Bosham, Sussex in 1773 and was buried in the chancel of the church in 1827, aged 54.

He was organist at the parish church of St. Nicholas, Brighthelmstone.

He gave many of the tunes local names in his 'Collection of Psalms and Hymns sung at the Parish Church Brighthelmstone. To which are added Several CANONS and a Te Deum Laudamus.'