

Thanet's Public Houses and Hotels 19th and early 20th Century

Scope

Arrangement

Entries are arranged alphabetically, each headed by the name of a Public House or Hotel and its location within Thanet . Each entry includes a brief summary of the principal occupants, with their personal names, occupations (if recorded), and the name & 'address' of the establishment at the time of their occupancy. Note that over time, the name and/or address may vary :

- some public houses were known by a basic name, in combination with various terms such as 'Inn', 'Tavern', 'Hotel', etc ~ these minor name variants appear under one heading
- where the basic name appears to have changed, two headings with appropriate cross references are given ~ eg. for the Elephant & Castle and the Elephant Hotel
- some references do not give the establishment's name, and where possible it has been identified by reference to the address
- where an address changed, apparently due to a change in a street's name or numbering, this is recorded under one heading ~ it is possible that different establishments, in the same vicinity, both using the same name, are unknowingly listed under one heading
- some establishments are at street corners, giving rise to the local use of alternative addresses

Most entries also include a few extra details from miscellaneous sources. There is an Occupants Index starting on page 37.
